TEN YEARS AND "CAT."

ROBBER GETS HIS DESERTS.
TWO YEARS OLD CRIME.

This Morning's Criminal Sessions Cases.

The most striking feature of to-day's Criminal Sessions was the heavy penalty imposed by Mr. J. R. Wood, the new Puisne Judge, on a man convicted of participation in a two years old robbery.

Mr. Wood's first case was that of Mak Sum, charged with robbery on April 15, 1923, at Wong Nei Cheong Village. In the course of her evidence the wife of the robbed man accused the prisoner of having forced into her husband's mouth some poison which had caused his death about twelve days later, but the Crown Solicitor, Mr. Whyte Smith, said that there was some sort of suggestion that the remedies which the man had used had aggravated the injuries.

Although two years had elapsed between the time of the robbery and the arrest of the prisoner, the woman had had no difficulty in picking the man out from thirteen others at the police station. Questioned by Mr. Justice Wood she said that she would only be able to recognise the other men who took part in the robbery "partly per cent," this man she recognised "fully per cent," because he was the one who had tied her husband up. The others had not shown their faces.

The defendant pleaded not guilty this morning but in previous statements he had confessed to participation in the robbery. At the Magistrate's he had stated that he had been arrested by a policeman who had told him that he was going to get him employment on a Government launch. This policeman had told him that unless he confessed he would be beaten to death.

The jury found defendant guilty and Mr. Justice Wood sentenced him to ten years' hard labour and twelve strokes of the "cat."

STOLEN CHILD.

Child stealing formed the subject of the next charge, defendant being Tam Wing. Mr. Whyte Smith said that a boy had been confided to the care of a relative in Hongkong who was a tailor and to whom he was apprenticed. He disappeared on February 27 and suspicion fell on the defendant who was the adopted son of the tailor and had taken the boy out to tea on several occasions. On being questioned by the mother of the boy the defendant said "you need not be afraid, I can recover him." At the police station he had stated that he and another man had taken the boy to Macao where they had received $25 each from a "dealer in children." The boy had not been seen by his relatives since. (Case proceeding.)

BANISHED MEN RETURN.

Three possession of arms cases and two of breaches of deportation orders were heard in the Supreme Court before His Lordship, Sir Henry Gwynne Gollan, Chief Justice.

The well worn excuse of a mother's funeral to which he was returning through Hongkong availed one of the deportees little. He had been deported as an "undesirable" for life and was arrested here in connection with a theft.

He was sentenced to three years' hard labour.

The other deportee had been arrested in connection with a robbery and was sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment with hard labour.

A man who ran away from a police picket between Mongkok and Shamsui was found to have been in possession of a revolver and three rounds of ammunition which were picked up by the roadside. He denied the charge and said that they were the property of someone else, there having been others who ran away from the picket.

The defendant was fired at five times by the police before he was brought down. Evidence was given to the effect that the defendant had thrown the weapon away as he ran.

He was sentenced to eight years' hard labour.

Chun Yau-wing, accused the constable who arrested him for having in his possession four automatic pistols of asking him (defendant) to give him $500 for the privilege of being let off the search. The arms were found in a box in the prisoner's possession on board the "Ling Chow."

Sentenced to seven years' imprisonment.

The man arrested with a revolver and five rounds of ammunition in his possession as a result of a police search on a tram car on April 6 was sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

It will be remembered that the bullets in the revolver were dum-dums.

COOLIE'S THEFTS.

Repulse Bay Home Robbed.

MRS. BOWEN-SMITH'S LOSSES.

FOUR MONTHS' JAIL FOR COULPRIT.

The mystery attending the disappearance of a number of articles belonging to Mrs. A. M. Bowen-Smith, of "Edenville," Repulse Bay, on various dates last month was solved when the police searched, on suspicion, the abode of a young Chinese who had worked as a house coolie at the time of the thefts.

Amongst some of the stolen property recovered was a leather cash box, coral necklace, locker and a magnifying glass.

At the Central Magistracy this morning, before Mr. H. R. Butters, the accused pleaded guilty to two charges of theft and unlawful TRADE SLUMP.

OMINOUS PIECEGOODS OUTLOOK.

FEARS OF A CRISIS.

Native Dealers Feeling the Pinch.

Fears that a crisis in local commerce may follow the piecegoods slump are causing much anxiety to the mercantile community.

Reference has already been made in the "China Mail" to the reported failure of a piecegoods dealer of fifty-eight years' standing. Other native dealers are feeling the pinch of decreased values and high rates of interest on loans with which to carry stocks.

On Saturday night, the Jervois Street dealers (wholesale merchants) held a guild meeting to devise steps to cope with the situation. Between sixty and seventy were present. It was generally agreed that the slump was brought about mainly by the chaotic up-country conditions and the hindrances to free transport on the waterways. Stocks hitherto ordered through Hongkong import firms were piling up here. Another disadvantage is the increasing discount on Canton subsidiary silver coins, in which piecegoods are sold in the interior. This factor is tantamount to adverse exchange.

It was decided to approach the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce for assistance. A letter was to be addressed to the Chamber to-day asking for (1) the extension of the delivery period of four months by an additional six months (2) and the waiving (by the importing firms) of the interest which would, according to contract, accrue through non-clearance within the stipulated period.

In an interview by the "Wah Tsai Yat Po," a leading merchant explained that there were over one hundred and forty firms which imported piecegoods, on indent, for account of native dealers. Old established firms might be able to help by extending the period for effecting delivery but some of the juniors might not be able to do so.

A number of gentlemen were taking steps to avert a crisis, these steps being similar to those adopted when danger threatened the yarn trade some years ago. A European expert with over twenty years' experience in the local piecegoods trade had approached the Hon. Mr. P. H. Holyoak (chairman of the Chamber of Commerce), says the article, and Mr. Holyoak was very sympathetic.

It is hoped that a certain amount of give and take will help materially to tide matters over and with the collaboration of the banks, hopes are entertained that a solution will be forthcoming.

That the matter is one of extreme urgency is revealed in the attitude of the native bankers some of whom are stated to be pressing dealers for the payment of advances.

PIRATE ATTACK.

"PARROT'S BEAK" GANG FOILED.

LOCAL VESSELS' ESCAPE.

"Parrot's Beak," already notorious in the annals of Canton River piracy, has been the scene of another attempt to molest two Hongkong vessels. Fortunately, the attack was frustrated, and two pirates are believed to have met their doom, after being shot and falling into the river.

Five days ago a steam launch towed an empty lighter out of Hongkong, bound for Wuchow, where it was to pick up a cargo of firewood.

Near "Parrot's Beak" in the Heungshan district three particularly long rowing boats, capable of very fast speed, approached the two vessels. In each of the boats were between ten and twenty pirates most of whom were brandishing firearms of all kinds.

Going alongside the lighter, the pirates attempted to clamber on deck but were frustrated through the lighter being empty and, therefore, standing high out of the water. The gang made several efforts to board the lighter. Meanwhile the coxswain of the launch had ordered his crew to open fire. Returning the fire, the pirates made off as fast as they could with the launch steaming away in the other direction.

The coxswain reports that he noticed two pirates fall into the water as though they had been shot.

SHOT IN BACK.

KOWLOON CITY ROBBERY ARRESTS.

TWO MORE MEN IN CUSTODY.

The armed robbery in which six men secured a haul of property valued at $525 from a hut at To Koo Ling village in the Kowloon City district provided a further development when another two arrests were made during the week-end.

On the gang entering the hut at 9 p.m. last Monday, a little boy slipped away unobserved and gave timely information at the Police Station. The police quickly turned out at the hut, but found that the robbers had got away with the haul. Later, they came upon two men hiding under an embankment and they were both arrested after a chase, one of them having to be shot in the back before he surrendered.

The wounded man is still in hospital, but his confederate, who had a dagger in his possession, was formally charged before Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Kowloon Magistrate's this morning, when he was remanded until Friday.

The two men arrested subsequently will be charged before the Magistrate in due course.

$1,300 ROBBERY.

Six men, armed with knives and revolvers, secured a good haul at 6.30 yesterday morning when they visited the two upper floors of 262, Des Voeux Road, occupied by cattle and poultry dealers. The inmates were bound and gagged, and the robbers escaped with money and jewellery estimated at about $1,300.

BRITAIN STIRRED BY GRAVE SCANDAL.

MISS LADY CARMARVON, DAUGHTER OF THE LATE GENERAL COWAN.

In suing her former husband, Lieutenant-Colonel Ian Oswald Dennistoun for the recovery of $1,100 she declared she advanced for the payments of his debts, the late Mrs. Dennistoun declared in a London court that her husband urged her to establish a liaison with the late General Sir John Cowan, Quarter-master General of the British Army during the war, who died in 1921, and that by virtue of her intimacy Colonel Dennistoun gained rapid promotion and easy military appointments. Since their divorce Colonel Dennistoun has been married to the second Mrs. Dennistoun, who was the widow of the Earl of Carnarvon, discoverer of the Tomb of King Tut-Ankh-Amen. One of the first Mrs. Dennistoun's letters to her husband, read in court, said: "If you don't do something for me, I will not only expose your character, but will show you were living with Lady Carnarvon (the elder) during her husband's life."

CRICKET HOPES.

POSSIBLE INTERPORT MATCH.

A VISIT TO SHANGHAI?

Shanghai may have a chance of retrieving the "Ashes" as there is a possibility of Hongkong sending up an interport cricket team, leaving on May 8 or 9.

Owing to the all-important question of leave it is hardly to be expected that the strongest team will be available. Still, according to the latest information, several of the team which defeated Singapore and Shanghai, in Hongkong, at the beginning of this season, are being discussed. What with the usual glorious uncertainty and the memory of Hongkong's victory in Shanghai the year before last, it would be decidedly rash to make any predictions.

The Rev. E. K. Quick, with his ripe experience, has been asked to be captain. He justified his being sent in to put first in the last series played here and his right-handed slow bowling brought about a separation whenever the first line of attack looked like being beaten.

Others of the last Hongkong team who have been asked if they can include A. C. I. Bowker, P. V. Lieut. Com. Hargreaves, R.N., C.Q.M.S. Stripp, East Surrey Regt., and A. W. Ramsay of the Kowloon Cricket Club.

Mr. H. E. Hollands informed the China Mail this morning, in response to inquiries, that the Committee has been working to get a side together for about a month. Many of the members of the team had been granted leave and full particulars would be available, he hoped, in the course of the next few days.

TICKET INCIDENT.

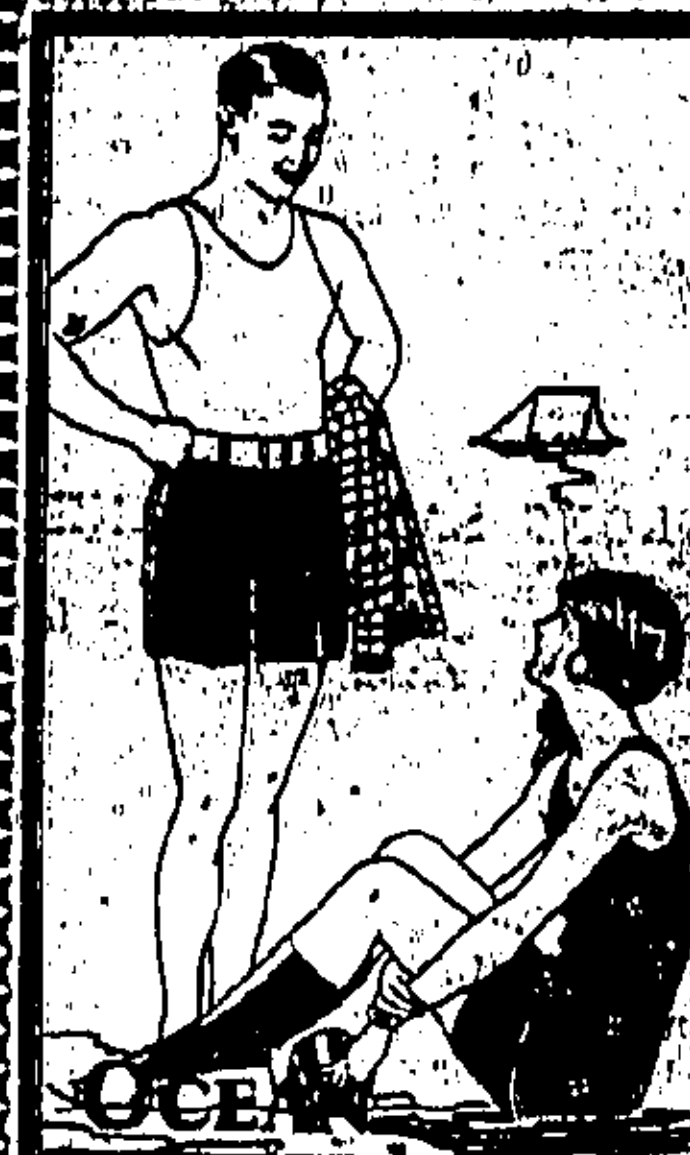

Before Mr. S. B. B. McElderry, at the Central Magistracy this morning, a Chinese youth was charged with evading payment of tramway fare.

Evidence was given by a tramway conductor that on asking the defendant for his fare he was met with the question whether it was necessary to pay as he intended to travel only a short distance. After repeated requests the conductor failed to receive the fare and he had the defendant arrested. The defendant on the other hand claimed that he had a ticket bearing the figures 9807, which he alleged the conductor threw away. He accused the conductor of cheating him. Records were produced to prove that the ticket in question was not issued for that particular trip.

The Magistrate imposed a fine of $5.

For 48 hours ended yesterday one case of enteric fever (Indian) and one case of cerebro-spinal fever, and one case of rabies (a dog) were notified.

SPORTS MEETING. SACRED HEART ENGLISH SCHOOL.

The second annual athletic sports of the Sacred Heart English School were held at Happy Valley yesterday in the presence of a large gathering.
The programme consisted of over 30 items, all of which were keenly contested and in many of them some close finishes were seen.

The weather was a trifle hot for a sports meeting, and consequently the runners especially in the long distance events, had a strenuous time. A new event hitherto not included in a school sports programme was the candle race which provided some excitement, a possible winner having the light blown out almost near the winning post. The relay race open to all schools was won in excellent style by a team from St. Joseph's College.

The Headmaster (Mr. J. S. Shak) welcomed Mrs. Kotevall in a few words, after which the Hon. Mr. Kotevall addressed the gathering. He said: "My wife has asked me to say a few words on her behalf before she gives away the prizes. I am sorry that I cannot speak up to-day, because I am suffering from what one of my doctors calls 'smoker's throat,' though my lips have never made the acquaintance of so much as a cigarette stump. Another doctor calls it a 'clergyman's throat,' though I have never been given to preaching, which I leave to my good lady. (Laughter.) I have come to this sports meeting from another function at which I have had to have my speech read out by another man, and as I have had no time to prepare a speech for this occasion I shall have to content myself with a few remarks upon what I have seen and heard since my arrival here. I learn from your Secretary that the school records in some of the races were maintained; they might have been smashed but for the condition of the track."

The sack race, which Mr. Kotevall said was the first event he witnessed, was "exhilarating" and he could not understand how the competitors managed to get to the winning post. If he attempted to enter in a race of that kind it would take him the best part of two hours to reach the tape, and that he would have to do by rolling. (Laughter.)

In conclusion Mr. Kotevall congratulated the school on the success of the sports meeting.

STEAMER MOVEMENTS.

Mrs. Kotevall gave away the prizes and was the recipient of a handsome bouquet in a vase. She was also given hearty cheers.

Amsterdam, April 18.—The whole city was on foot to welcome the return of the Dutch airmen who flew to Java. A guard of honour, composed of students, accompanied the fliers through the crowds cheering in the streets.—Reuter.

Paris, April 18.—For the three months of 1925 France's imports totalled 9,826,000,000 francs, and exports 10,920,000,000. For March the normal permanent revenue returns show 1,080,000,000 francs, compared with 1,961,000,000 last year.—Reuter.

Copenhagen, April 19.—The dispute in the textile, book-making, paper and other smaller industries, which hitherto has left 50,000 idle, henceforth will involve 115,000. This is due to the employers extending the lock-out, owing to the Workers' Unions rejecting the proposal of the mediators.—Reuter.

BIRTH.

SHERRY.—On April 20, at 119,
The Peak, to Mr. and Mrs.
J. P. Sherry, a son.

Hongkong, Monday, April 20, 1925.

THE LEOPARD'S SPOTS.

Theoretically of course when a lawbreaker has served his sentence he has expiated his crime and is entitled to take his place in society again. Actually we all know that in practice this is rarely the case. We know that every man who has once committed a crime is always suspect, no matter how pious his later utterances, how convincing his atonement. That roughly is the position of Marshal von Hindenburg to-day. During the war, he was, next to his Imperial master, Germany's greatest military leader. Now as a candidate for the Presidency he calls himself a man of peace. Possibly in this he is quite sincere. Certainly his words ring true when he declares that it would be foolish for the Fatherland to undertake any war-like adventures at present. But for all his pious words he is still suspect. The world is apt to say that the leopard cannot change its spots, and thinking that; it cannot fail to note that the reason why Marshal von Hindenburg is against any war-like adventures is not a natural aversion from war but a feeling, as a military expert, that such adventures would be doomed to failure, looking to Germany's present depleted fighting strength. Excellent as that reason may be, as a curb for the Marshal's military ardour, it is anything but reassuring for a war-weary world precipitating an international crisis than by a threat to neighbouring countries. Although the Marshal gave a very enigmatic answer to the news agency man who asked him if he favoured a republic or a monarchy, he is known to be a staunch supporter of the former Kaiser, and as such, even though he took care never to exceed his rights under the laws of the Reich, honouring his present protestations, none the less he would be a most unfortunate choice for President, since his motives would always be suspect to a point that could only result in the most violent political disensions. Undoubtedly it is for nobody but the German elector to say who shall be the next President, but the fact remains that the world does not trust Marshal von Hindenburg, and his election would be, in the words of a German writer, "a calamitous event."

Sunday.

Hongkong's summer, as Coleridge might have remarked, has set in with its usual severity.
And appropriately enough on a Sunday. The profusion of "whites" on the men, and garment of flimsiness on women, indicate as much. Sunday is a right day for summer to "y-comen in." There is time to dig and delve in the capacious camphor-wood boxes, without which, as a catalogue might have it, no home is complete. And there is time to saunter out to test the sun's glare and to find out whether or no the step of changing to the habiliments of a changed temperature has been premature or not. But a Sunday such as was yesterday gives opportunity for other considerations. All the year round to many of us there occurs to the mind consciously or in the true spiritual meaning, the song we have ere this quoted:—

Of all the days that's in the week,
I dearly love but one day—
And that's the day that comes between
A Saturday and Monday.

It is a lonely day no matter how strenuously, studiously or seriously it may be taken. On it thoughts are switched to different, and, let us hope, worthier things. The actions of the day are somehow different, and the resultant effect is a tuning up of the system and the mind to meet the common tasks of the days to follow. If it is possible to think of a year free from holidays, it is also possible to think of it without a day of rest; and the thought should steel the mind against any tampering with it and with the ideal which has surrounded it ever since its inception.

R 33.

One fact emerges from a reading of the accounts of the breakaway of this airship; that the experimental stage of air-conquest has passed and that we are in measurably safe distance of saying that air travel is as safe as railway travel. The R33 broke away at a time of testing for both the ship and her crew. It was unexpected. It was at a time when the elements were at their magnificent worst—like Oliver Wendell Holmes' sea—without mercy. Yet in spite of serious damage the ship rides the storm for many hours, is driven to Holland, and is brought back to the place from which a faulty piece of mooring mast had caused her to be driven. The human element is not to be ignored. In making the statement that the experimental stage of air-conquest has passed, it is necessary in this particular connection to add that gallantry and bravery are not hidden to one particular period. The control of the drifting airship reads like romance. But it reveals coolness in the face of apparent disaster and a bravery that can well be placed alongside any of the acts of peace and war. This series of epic deeds by young men who were as "happy as skylarks" inspires confidence in the nation's future and also the science of aircraft. It suggests also that in air ships as such, rather than aeroplanes, is to be found the type of air travel likely to suit the peculiar conditions attached to such places as Hongkong.

A son of a gentleman well-known in business circles who had spent many years in the Far East was how he Acting Attorney General, Sir Henry Pollock, K.C., described Mr. Thomas Addis, in applying this morning for his admission and enrolment as a barrister to practise in Hongkong.
Mr. Addis is the son of Sir tee, Director of the Bank of England and of the P. and O. Steam served in France and Italy during the War, later, proceeding to Oxford where he obtained the B. A. degree and being called to the Bar in June 1923.

In acceding to the application
Sir Henry Crompton Gollan, Chief Justice, said he hoped Mr. Addis would carry on the traditions of the name that was so well known.

PRINCE GEORGE.

SATISFACTORY CONDITION
AFTER OPERATION.

The following bulletin was issued from Buckingham Palace in mail week:—

His Royal Highness Prince George underwent an operation this morning for enucleation [removal] of tonsils.

The condition of his Royal Highness is satisfactory. Unless special circumstances arise, no further bulletin will be issued.

(Sgd.) MILSOM REES,

H. EDMUND G. BOYLE,
JOHN WEIR,
DAVIDSON OF PENN.

Sir Milson Rees, the laryngologist, it is understood, performed the operation. He had been preparing Prince George for some days past, spraying and otherwise treating his throat, which was still slightly septic. The operation was the total removal of the tonsils. A very short time afterwards the Prince was walking about as though in perfect health.
A few days hence he was expected probably to go to the Continent for a short stay, and after recupera-tion to sail for Chinese waters, where he will join his ship.

MRS. HARRY WOODS.

UNPLEASANT STREET
ACCIDENT.

"PROCEEDING SATISFACTORILY."

Mrs. Harry Woods is proceeding satisfactorily and it is not thought that she will be in hospital more than a few days the "China Mail" was informed upon enquiry.

Mrs. Woods, her many friends will regret to hear, was the victim of the thoughtlessness of a coolie who, not looking where he was going, collided with her as she was about to leave a ricksha in Queen's Road on Saturday.

Mrs. Woods felt heavily but received no assistance from the crowd of coolies who gathered round. It was not until a few Europeans were attracted to the scene that anything was done to help Mrs. Woods who was shaken rather badly. She was conveyed home and later to the French Hospital by ambulance.

Peking, April 19.—A mandate issued last night ordering a chaban against Yang Sen censures him for aggressively occupying the arsenal

ing the salt revenue of Shihliuchin, and, "worst of all," moving his troops to attack his colleagues in order to obtain supreme power throughout the whole province.
Although he recently telegraphed acknowledging his allegiance to the Central Government, this was afterwards proved to be false and insincere by the movement of his troops. To prevent misconduct by Yang Sen General Liu Hsiang is hereby directed to effect a chaban

a military operation and its consequent evils will no more trouble the

A VITAL "IF."

HINDENBURG AND PRESIDENCY.

WHAT HE WILL DO.

When Personal Wishes Avail Nothing.

Marshal von Hindenburg is a candidate for Germany's next President. Although he is known to be Monarchist, he refuses to say so in direct terms.

MILITARY PANOPLY.

(Reuter's Service.)

Hanover, April 19. Standing for an hour like a graven image, attired in Field-Marshal's uniform and wearing the Iron Cross, Marshal von Hindenburg this morning reviewed a parade of some 2,000 goose-stepping members of Nationalist organisations.

This is his first public appearance since his nomination in the presidential election. Interviewed by Reuter, Marshal von Hindenburg said that if he is elected President he will act constitutionally to protect the laws of the Reich. He is specially interested in the question of the security pact guaranteeing the frontiers of France and Belgium. Hindenburg asserted that Germany's Eastern frontier must be altered by negotiations.

He emphatically replied to a the Presidential contest on April 26 against Marshal Hindenburg, whose nomination shows that the reactionaries have wrested the ascendancy of the Nationalist Party from the Stresmann group. Thus the votes given to Hindenburg, though unlikely to secure his return, will be interesting as an indication of highwater mark in German nationalism, for the changes of the third candidate nominated, the Communist Herr Thaelmann, are negligible.

Manifestoes from innumerable reactionary organisations chap-oddly appear for support for "Our Father Hindenburg the German, the Christian, the Hero," against Marx, "representative of the international Jewish spirit," where the Socialists and Communist newspapers retort with the invective of "Mass murderer, butcher, bloodhound."

It is noteworthy that the Centre and Democratic organs, while opposing, treat Hindenburg respectfully, and Dr. Marx, in his speeches, refers to Marshal Hindenburg with reverence. It is significant, however, that the prospects of German trade have recently been the dominating note in the campaign, the Marxites using the recent slump in the foreign loan market as an argument against the Nationalists, and the latter labelling Marx as an anti-capitalist candidate on account of his Socialist support. The electors are confronted with a bewildering mass of trade statistics, constituting the chief material argument of each side that its candidate alone is likely to attract foreign capital.

Addressing an audience of twenty thousand, Dr. Marx said that Germany must make sacrifices in order to maintain peace and secure her western frontier. Nevertheless, the Franco-German understanding was a valuable political aim, but acceptance of the security pact as regards the west afforded all the more reason why Germany must remember the unnatural frontier conditions in the east and the social affinity binding them to Austria. Germany must again put forward a claim for national union with Austria and the resurrection of the Great Germany.

FRANCE'S POLITICS.

(Reuter's Service.)

Paris, April 18. With not a single member of M. Herriot's Cabinet remaining in office, and with five Senators appointed Cabinet members, M. Painlevé has done his best to placate the Senate, which brought down M. Herriot. The question remains whether the Senate, which sentenced M. Caillaux, will tolerate a Cabinet wherein M. Caillaux is a dominating factor. The Senate at the moment seems inclined to bury the hatchet, probably on account of M. Caillaux's well-known aversion to a capital levy. A likelier contingency is a split in the Left Cartel, that strange alliance of Radicals and Socialists, for M. Briand is opposed to abolition of the Embassy to the Vatican which is one of the chief points in the Cartel's programme.

The question as to whether the Socialists will support a Cabinet which rejects the capital levy is temporarily settled, for the socialist leaders, after conferring with M. Painlevé to-day announced that a broad agreement was reached that the Ministerial declaration should be based on the same principles as inspired the Herriot Government.

M. Briand's tactical talents have full scope in smoothing the relations of the two chambers, failure to improve which may mean that a dissolution will be inevitable; but M. Painlevé's mathematics are likely to be taxed in solving the personal equation of antagonism between M. Briand and M. Caillaux.

The dominating factor remains finance, whereabout public anxiety is such that even the bitterest opponents of M. Caillaux are resigned to swallowing the pills of his political revival, for almost mystic store is set upon his financial technique and strength of purpose.

Peking, April 19.—The Reorganisation Conference disposed of the remaining agenda items yesterday, including the regulations for the national delegates conference, which were approved. The Conference again meets to-morrow, to discuss the financial rehabilitation proposals, and the closing session takes place on Tuesday. Courtesy of the "Daily Bulletin."

PRINCE IN TROPICS.

Heat Too Much For Staff.

NIGERIA INCIDENTS.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS AT POLO.

(Reuter's Service.)

Minna, April 19. The Prince of Wales left Kano this morning enroute for Lagos. His first destination is Ibadan. The Prince has clearly benefited from the polo yesterday, which was his first ride since March 28. The intense heat has slightly affected some members of the Prince's staff, though in no wise seriously. [Ibadan is a town in the west province of Southern Nigeria, capital of the Yoruba states. It is 121 miles from Lagos. The town has a British President and is a station for Hausa troops. Silk is made at Ibadan and cotton is grown in the vicinity. There is a market for cotton there too. The population is 175,000.]

EARLIER CAELES. Kano, Nigeria, April 18. Despite the long railway journey here, the Prince of Wales played tennis this evening and after dinner attended an open air dance which was a veritable fairyland, illuminated with myriads of coloured lights under the star sprinkled African sky. The whole floor was specially converted from wild bush two miles from Kano in a space of six weeks.

Though only 130 white people are resident in Kano, five hundred whites attended the dance, mostly uniformed officials from all parts of the Northern Territory. The guests included twenty-five European ladies, charmingly dressed, nineteen of whom travelled enormous distances. The Prince shook hands with all and danced practically every dance.

THE DURBAR. Kano, April 19. Crowds were swarming to Kano all night blowing horns and displaying sleep-destriving enthusiasm. The scenes this morning were amazing. Streams of plodding visitors were visible on all the roads for miles, resembling converging armies of ants.

The Emir had already congregated for the Durbar. Most of them travelled hundreds of miles accompanied by hosts of retainers, many of whom died from the intense heat, disease and jungle accidents en route.

At the Durbar at 8 o'clock this morning there was a wonderful cavalry display. It was a case of horses everywhere. Twenty thousand were ranged in horse-shoe formation, all flaunting the gayest colours, and with British officers galloping about completing arrangements. The commotion was hushed upon the arrival of the Prince of Wales, the complete silence being the Hausa token of respect. Then the band of the Nigerian Regiment crashed into a stirring march, followed by the rolling of hundreds of native drums.

The Prince was seated on a dais covered with a multi coloured canopy captured in fighting seventy years ago. His Royal Highness watched the parade, first the infantry and artillery, the latter carrying the gunparts on their heads. Then the Emir's troopers charged with lances and swords drawn, halting spectacularly two feet from the dais. The cavalry thereafter marched past headed by bands playing ancient instruments, all clad in gorgeous uniforms. The concourse of spectators, whose blood was fired by the continuous roll of exultant drums, cheered tumultuously.

DEVIL DANCERS. Numerous riders were accoutred in the old-time uniform of Crusaders or in chain mail complete with visor, and added a bizarre touch to the dazzling scene. Outbursts of frenzied cheering rent the air as the dense columns filed past the dais to the accompaniment of deafening drums.

Interspersed between files of cavalry at the walk appeared groups of dancers, wildly gyrating and shouting. They were perfect types of devil dancers. Every moment saw something fresh in the never-ending procession—brilliant all red uniforms, golden bows and arrows, five-foot trumpets, plumed helmets and finally a most magnificent body of Bornu Cavalry, with heads befeathered, rode waving cutlasses and swords, accompanied by a special troop mounted on beautifully caparisoned camels and carrying enormous silk flags.

The scene was staggering, thousands of superb horsemen standing in their stirrups, shrieking waving their swords and bounding in their saddles. It was truly an orgy of colour. (Continued at foot of next Column.)

BLOOD FURY.

HIDING COMMUNISTS KILLED.

BOMB OUTRAGE INCIDENTS.

Woman Murdered to Preserve Secret.

That the wife of the man who procured the explosives was killed to preserve the secret of the plot is one of the startling statements made in connection with the Sofia bomb outrage.

PLOTTER'S SUICIDE.

(Reuter's Service.)

[Sofia, April 19. Several Agrarian leaders who support the principle of a coalition with the Communists, also certain members of the legal executive committee of Communists, were discovered hidden in houses in Sofia. Some resisted and were killed by persons maddened by the loss of relatives in the Cathedral explosion. Captain Krstev, who is alleged to have procured the explosives used in the Cathedral, has committed suicide. His wife is said to have been killed by the Communists in order to prevent her from revealing the plot.

A Cathedral servant has been arrested. It is alleged he was bribed to permit a man to place the infernal machine in position.

British M.P.'s Mission. The British members of Parliament, Messrs. J. Wedgwood (Labour), P. B. Malone (Conservative) and W. Mackinder (Labour) have arrived in Sofia to study the situation. The War Minister, in an interview, declared an increase in the army was indispensable to maintain order. Steps would be taken to conscript an additional 10,000 men.

Conspirators Arrested? Paris, April 19. A message from Sofia states that the police have discovered the authors of the Cathedral outrage. They are alleged to be Yankoff and Minkoff, President and Vice-President, respectively, of the Central Communist Committee. Almost all the Communist leaders have been arrested.

Earlier Cables. Sofia, April 18. One of the three domes of the Sveta Nedelja Cathedral, where the infernal machine was deposited, has completely collapsed, also the south porch, while there is grave danger of the central dome collapsing. The whole town is mourning and all shops are shut.

RHESUS IN PORT.

(Reuter's Service.)

Port Said, April 19. The steamer Rhesus has arrived here towed by another vessel. She will discharge her cargo then go to Alexandria for dry dock repairs, after which she is expected to return here to reload.

The final list of Cathedral victims includes thirteen Generals, three Deputies, the Mayor of Sofia, eight high Government officials, two lawyers, nineteen women and seven children. All the victims were buried in the same grave after a funeral service in the cemetery. One of the bell-ringers of the Cathedral is among those arrested on suspicion.

The parade closed with gallops past by detachments, a fitting finish to a wondrous demonstration of loyalty never seen before and never to be seen again. The spectators were entranced.

A reception to the Emir followed, the latter squatting in a semi-circle fully fifty yards from the Prince to hear his address. The official interpreter was standing near the Prince, and the latter, remarking that the Emir was unable to hear, motioned them to approach, whereafter they squatted at the foot of the dais.

The Minister for the Interior, interviewed, said the Agrarian Communist party had sold itself to foreign interests. The arrested criminal members of the party had made disclosures which made the discovery of the authors of the outrage possible. The Premier declared the Government's determination to repress Communist and Anarchist attempts. The Government is introducing a Bill to provide grants for the families bereaved by the explosion.

FORMER CROWN PRINCE EXONERATED.

GERMAN COURT'S FINDING.

(Reuter's Service.)

Berlin, April 19. The Supreme Court has concluded its investigation into the alleged war crimes of the former Crown Prince.

The court has found that the Crown Prince never ordered the burning and plundering of villages and towns. He was not responsible for the executions ordered by the military tribunals of his army corps. Therefore the court quashed further proceedings.

FOOLISH DREAMS. Hanover, April 19.

Marshal van Hindenburg, replying to a questionnaire submitted by Reuter's correspondent, said that if he were chosen President he would respect the military as well as the other provisions of the Versailles treaty. His outlook was a peaceful one. He was convinced that it would be foolish for Germany to indulge in warlike adventures which after the war he had always opposed because they could only end disastrously.

As a military expert he did not think Germany was even capable of defending herself against the small neighbouring states. Poland and Czechoslovakia possessed bigger standing armies, and were protected by the military alliances.

Paris, April 18.—It is learned authoritatively that the Peking report of settlement of the controversy re the French share of the Boxer indemnity is premature in the form wherein it was published, but an agreement equally satisfactory to the two countries is well within sight. Havas.

COL. BUTTERWORTH.

HONGKONG SPORTSMAN'S DEPARTURE.

This is the season of farewells, but many as there have been it is questionable whether any will be so keenly regretted by the sporting community and the Horticultural Society as the departure of Lieut. Colonel R. F. A. Butterworth, C.M.G., D.S.O. R.E. He has been three years in the Colony, but within that short period he has accomplished what many take nearly a lifetime to do for the uplifting of sport and the encouragement of the culture of flowers. He has been in command of the Royal Engineers, Hongkong, since April, 1922.

Lieut. Colonel Butterworth is a son of the late Mr. R. W. Butterworth, of Rockwell, near Bristol, and was educated at Eton. He entered the Army in 1895, and was successively at Chatham, Portsmouth, Landguard Fort, and Singapore on harbour defences; was Staff Officer of the Royal Engineers in Malta in 1911; returned Home in 1914 and formed a Field Company of the Royal Engineers for service in the new Army. He was afterward C.R.E. 16th Division and on the staff of G.H.Q. He proceeded to France in command in July, 1915. He was five times mentioned in despatches (C.M.G., D.S.O., and bar; and Iraq Operations (mentioned in despatches). He was Deputy Director of Works in Mesopotamia in 1920-21, coming to Hongkong the following year.

During the three years he has been here he has, as already indicated, closely identified himself with sports and games, being President of the Garrison Recreation Club, 1923-24-25; President of the U.S.R.C., 1924-25; assisted the R.E. to win the Garrison Tennis Cup, 1922-23; and the Second Division Cricket Shield in 1924. It may be recalled that he received a trophy from the Kowloon Cricket Club in January last, when he took eight wickets for 17 runs, and performed the hat-trick.

An enthusiast in flowers, Lieut. Colonel Butterworth judged for two years at the annual flower shows under the auspices of the Hongkong Horticultural Society. He was on the Committee and acted as a Judge at the annual Cat and Dog Show, was in great demand as a starter and Judge in many field and aquatic sports, and last, but not least, was Organising Secretary of the Military, Stall, M.C.L. Bazaar, in 1922-23-24.

This is a splendid record of service to the community within such a comparatively short time. Lieut. Colonel Butterworth, left for Home by the P. and O. steamer Karmala on Saturday, taking with him the good wishes and gratitude of the entire sporting and military communities, coupled with best wishes for his future career.

His Successor.—He is succeeded here by Lieut. Colonel E. B. Mackintosh, D.S.O., R.E. who was educated at Eton, the R.M.A., and Woolwich, and entered the Army in 1889. He served with the Egyptian Army from 1906 to 1915 (4th class Osmannieh), was A.D.C. to the Sir-day and Governor-General of Egypt from 1908 to 1911; was D.A.A.G. and A.A.G. from 1911 to 1915 and served in the war from 1915 to 1919 (mentioned in despatches, D.S.O. Bt. Lt. Col., Legion of Honour). His recreations are golf and tennis.

CRICKET CHAMPIONS.

CIVIL SERVICE WIN THE LEAGUE.

CLUB LOSE AGAIN.

Only two cricket matches were played on Saturday—both in the first division of the league. By defeating the H.K.C.C. "A" the Civil Service senior team win the championship of the first league. They have already annexed the junior championship.

Saturday's matches were as follows:—

C.S.C.C. v. H.K.C.C. "A"

The Civil Service Cricket Club, captained by Mr. E. W. Hamilton, scored a decisive victory in the First Division League fixture with the Hongkong Cricket Club "A" team, thus establishing their position as champions in both divisions this season.

The game was played on the C.S.C.C. ground, the visitors taking first knock at the wickets. The C.S.C.C. bowlers, assisted by good fielding and wicket-keeping, disposed of their opponents for 49 runs. Of the three bowlers, Evans came off best with four wickets for twelve runs.

The home team made the required number of runs at the expense of four wickets. Sayer contributed nearly half the runs necessary for a win, and was unfortunate in getting in the way of Vallack, who secured three wickets for thirteen runs.

UNIVERSITY v. NAVY.

The postponed League match in the senior division between the University and the Navy, played on the University ground, provided an exciting finish, the home team eventually getting away by a margin of 23 runs.

The Navy, batting first, compiled 150 runs, of which Cantrell made 55 not out in good style, his score including nine fours. West (25) also gave a good display. The bowling honours were shared by Balhatchett (3 for 38), Rev. Quick (3 for 43), and Rumjahn (4 for 45). By forceful cricket, and amid much excitement, the University passed the score of their opponents. Four entered double figures, Rev. Quick being responsible for 47 runs, which included half a dozen boundaries, and Hett making 33 with some hard hitting. Hargreaves (3 for 29), and Cantrell (3 for 37) bowled well.

The fielding of both sides was excellent and the match was one of the finest seen on the University ground.

The actual fact is that in this day Opportunity not only knocks at your door but is playing an evil trick on every man's door, and then lays for the owner around the corner with a club. The world is in some need of men who can do things. Indeed, cases can easily be recalled by everyone where Opportunity actually smushed in the door and carried her candidate and dragged him forth to success. — ELBERT HERMANN.

A slight modification in authorship is responsible for delay in the appearance of some picturesque postage stamps now being prepared in Paris for use in Indo-China. The official decision that the design of the dependency is to be rendered in future as one world instead of two has necessitated the re-engraving of the frame which are to enclose vignettes of the Government palace, native temple, river scene, etc.

Hobart is the political and social capital of the State of Tasmania, but it is certainly not the centre of the trade and industry of Tasmania. Railway communication between the south and north-west is slow, expensive, and irksome. It is easier and quicker to cross the 140 miles of Bass Strait to Melbourne than to undertake the tiresome railway journey from the north-western seaboard to Hobart. Consequently, for purposes of trade the north-west province is virtually a suburb of Melbourne, and a considerable proportion of its population know the Victorian capital as well as, if not better than, their own.

At the last meeting of the French Municipal Council Shanghai, Mr. H. J. Sheridan brought to the notice of members, complaints by numerous American residents sending their children to the school in Avenue Pet in on the subject of the excessive speed of motor cars in that thoroughfare. The American Association also asked that severe measures be taken to put an end to the dangers which pedestrians and especially children incurred through this cause. The Chairman of the Council said that strict instructions would be given to the police to deal with any infringement of the regulations, and it was also pointed out speeding is forbidden in the Concession.

A master mariner's certificate is not a thing that one usually associates with a woman, but at least one woman is a qualified "skipper." She is Lady Margaret MacRae, sister of Lord Bute, and wife of a Highland chieftain. Lady Margaret qualified some years ago, and is a well-known figure in the yachting world. She navigates her own yacht at the Cowes Regatta each year, and is an extremely competent seaman—or should it be sea-woman?

IS IT "GETTING ON YOUR NERVES?"

A Brief Health Talk To Business Men.

When you find that you no longer approach either work or pleasure with the same zest as formerly, that you rise depressed and fagged in the morning, and make distasteful, the duties of the day bring and vexatious; when you feel that there is "always something wrong," not only in your surroundings but also in your physical condition, it is time to bring yourself to a sudden stop, to realize that you are facing a nervous breakdown, and that here and now, without delay, a re-building process must be commenced if a worse condition of things is to be averted.

To re-build exhausted forces and revitalize over-taxed nerves there is only one right way, and that is through the blood. And to strengthen and purify the blood nothing better exists than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, the Tonic of world-wide reputation. As long as you can remember.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS

have been a familiar name to you; if you give them your confidence now the probability is that you will think of them with gratitude for the rest of your life.

Delay is dangerous. Why not begin your restoration to health today? Chemists everywhere sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or send post free to your address, $1.00 per bottle, 48¢ for six bottles, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 80 Kingston Road, Shanghai.

ASYLUM HYPNOTICS.

TOO EARLY TO BE CRITICISM.

"BEHIND THE SCENES" REQUEST.

Prior to the hearing of evidence by the Royal Commission on Lunacy and Mental Disorder, at Old Palace Yard, an application was made, by an individual who described himself as a member of the Bar, and who asked that he might remain anonymous. He requested that he should be given an opportunity of presenting evidence to the Commission at a time convenient to himself. He was acting, he said, simply and solely for the benefit of these "poor, afflicted, and unfortunate people" who were suffering "terrible tortures of body and mind and were unable to help themselves. It was, he thought, desirable that the Commission should know what went on behind the scenes rather than take evidence from the medical profession.

Mr. N. Micklethorn, K.C., who presided in the absence of the Right Hon. H. P. Macmillan, K.C., intimated that the matter would be considered and the applicant communicated with.

Evidence was then given by Mr. Gibson, chief general secretary of the National Asylum Workers' Union, Mr. Walter Blood, president of the union, and Miss Maud Weiss, a member of the National Executive Council of the union.

Mr. Gibson, replying to the chairman, said that a better class of mental attendants was wanted in the asylums, and suggested that such attendants would not be secured until there was a reasonable remuneration offered, together with better prospects. "In some of the smaller mental hospitals the training of probationers was extremely casual.

As to hospital regulations, Mr. Gibson said that in his opinion the patients at many of the mental hospitals were sent to bed too early. He believed the use of hypnotics would be very much reduced if patients were allowed to stay up, or were kept up "till later." In some cases the patients were put to bed at seven, or 7.30, and in the case of the man suffering from delusions, particularly in the summer months, he would be thinking and worrying about his trouble for some hours before he went to sleep. It would be much better if he were kept up and given some occupation or game.

Dealing with the question of female nurses in male wards, Mr. Gibson said "I have yet to see the medical superintendent who would ask his wife or daughter to nurse in the male ward. Fully 50 per cent. of the medical superintendents are opposed to it. If these people were normal one would not deny the advantage of female nurses. But if the system is extended to mental hospitals I fear the consequences."

Miss Weiss agreed that women should not be asked to nurse in male wards. There was no work more repulsive or degrading for women. On the subject of the atmosphere in mental institutions, Mr. Gibson said "The atmosphere, as far as I have found it, is perfectly friendly. Generally, the relations are good between patients and nurses. In fact, in some cases I have heard of members of the staff taking patients out of local hall and concerts for their own expense. I think the general charges of cruelty are absolutely unfounded, but I am prepared to admit that some cases have happened and will continue to happen until you change human nature. I remember on one occasion I had to restrain a medical man who wanted to take out a patient who had been challenging him to fight nearly every day for six weeks."

As to dieting, Mr. Gibson said that although there had been some improvement since the war in the best institutions, those in the rural districts were deficient in the matter. Clothing, he said, was made of tustian, which when dirty was washed in an ordinary laundry, mangled, and dried, and came out shapeless. This had a very bad effect on patients who had any delicacy of feeling. As for outdoor exercise, he thought that such games as bowls and tennis might well be introduced. To see patients walking round asphalted courts hour after hour was very distressing and could not be good for the patients. Mr. Gibson also objected to the nurses' key chains. In many cases, he said, the nurses, in order to guard their keys, were compelled to wear key chains that would have held a steamship. Such chains suggested the prison, and seeing one hanging down one could almost imagine that there was a baton on the end of it. A strong leather thong would be as effective and much less obtrusive. His union also was strongly opposed to patients being allowed to go into any institutions run for private profit. It was desirable that medical superintendents should confine themselves to medical affairs. Competent medical men were often too temperamental and quite unfitted for administrative duties. For example, at an institution in the Midlands recently a female nurse had been dismissed by the medical superintendent for

PLANE FEEDS SHEEP.

MEANS OF TRANSPORT
IN AUSTRALIA.

The exceptional value of air transport in Australia has been pointed out in a paper written by Mr. H. L. J. Hinkler, the well-known pilot, and read before the Institution of Aeronautical Engineers.

The population of Australia is less than the population of Greater London, Mr. Hinkler wrote, and therefore the cost of laying an extensive system of railways is prohibitive. Since the population is in two groups, one on the eastern and one on the western side of the continent, there was no means of communication between them. The aeroplane, however, provides cheap and quick transport, and is likely to be much used in the future for communication between Eastern and Western Australia.

Already air services extend far round the coast, and their success shows that the peculiar value of the aeroplane to Australia is fully realised by the inhabitants. One of the air lines has flown 150,000 miles with 100 per cent. efficiency. Another, on the west coast, flies on the longest air route in the world, a distance equivalent to a journey from London to Alexandria.

On one occasion during floods a flock of sheep valued at £7,000 was mowned on a small patch of ground and likely to starve to death. Several tons of maize were carried to the sheep by aeroplane, and thus a complete loss was obviated.

APOCRYPHAL TALES.

SHOULD THEY BE TOLD TO SCHOOL CHILDREN?

A recommendation that copies of the Apocrypha, excluded from most Bibles, should be supplied on request, was discussed at some length by the Wills General Education Committee.

Alfred Mann protested against the teaching of fables, instancing the killing of the dragon by Daniel, who stuffed his mouth with pitch, hair and fat to such an extent that he burst asunder.

Were these, he asked, going to teach children the story of putting fish's liver on burning coals, which created such a urgent odour that it drove the devil into Egypt? And surely they would not dream of telling the story of Susannah and the Elders?

The committee responsible for the recommendation submitted that there were good and bad passages in the Apocrypha, just as there were in the Bible.

Archdeacon Redington said there was much valuable history in the Apocrypha, which covered two thousand years immediately before the coming of Christ.

Mr. H. Lead, a former master at Marlborough, admitted that he had never read the Apocrypha.

The recommendation was ultimately withdrawn.

ADMITS MURDER PLOT.

DR. CHARLES C. FAIMAN, M.D.

Dr. C. C. Faiman, head of a Chicago school of bacteriology, has confessed that he, upon an alleged promise from William Shepherd of $100,000, supplied the typhoid fever germs which he asserted resulted in the death of William McClintock, the "millionaire orphan," whose estate Shepherd inherited. Dr. Faiman told of conferences with Shepherd, at which times, he said, he instructed McClintock's heir concerning the best way to administer the bacilli. Shepherd denied even knowing Dr. Faiman, and disavowed charges that he had taken a course in germ study at Dr. Faiman's school.

RADIO NEWS.

WORLD'S FAIR HEAD-QUARTERS FORMALLY OPENED.

New York City, February 17. The new offices of the Second Radio World's Fair, located on the Fifteenth Floor of the Times Building, Broadway at 42nd Street, were formally opened this morning and Directors U. J. Herrmann and James F. Kerr are already arranging the final details of the big Exposition which is to be held in the 25th Field, Artillery Armory, September 14th to 19th, the dates selected on the closing day of the 1924 Fair last September.

The 1925 Show will be almost twice as large as the First Radio World's Fair which completely filled both Madison Square Garden and the 69th Regiment Armory, and broke all records for attendance and business transacted.

The huge armory is the only building in Greater New York large enough to house all of the 325 exhibits on the ground floor and still leave room enough to safely accommodate a daily attendance of 30,000 people. It is the largest building of its kind in America. The auditorium measures 300 by 600 feet and does not contain a single pillar. The square footage of the open floor space is exactly five times that of the present Madison Square Garden.

There will be 275 nationally known American manufacturers and 50 of the leading foreign concerns among the exhibitors and the combined value of the devices on display will run close to $10,000,000.

Public demonstrations will be held every afternoon and evening in which a score of internationally famous wireless engineers will participate. Several will introduce inventions of a startling character.

Two large sections will be devoted to New Inventions and Amateur Built Sets this year. Gold medals, silver cups and cash prizes will be awarded in both divisions by a jury of eminent authorities. Amateur and professional radio experts of all nations are cordially invited to participate in these competitions for which no registration fee will be required. Entry blanks with full particulars will be furnished to all who apply.

In an interview this morning, General Manager James F. Kerr said: "The Radio World's Fair of 1925 will be the largest and most comprehensive industrial exposition ever held anywhere, unless I am badly mistaken. It gives every promise of outshining the First Radio World's Fair in all respects and all indications point to a record breaking attendance."

"I am also of the opinion that there will be a great increase in the amount of wholesale business transacted by our exhibitors this season. A survey just completed by our Special Service Department leads me to believe that over 5,000 native and foreign jobbers and dealers will attend the coming Show. In fact, our Jobbers and Dealers' Bureau is arranging to look after the interests of 6,500 of them."

"Our new business offices in the Times Building will remain open throughout the entire year hereafter, and in the future the special service bureaus which we maintain for the benefit of all members of the radio fraternity will operate from this centrally located headquarters."

OBITUARY.

LADY AGLEN'S DEATH AT SEA.

Much sympathy will be felt for Sir Francis Aglen, Inspector General of the Chinese Maritime Customs, in his great bereavement news having been received here that Lady Aglen, who accompanied her husband on home leave, died on board the s.s. "Antenor" on April 17, whilst between Singapore and Colombo.

Lady Aglen had been ill for a considerable time past and was travelling as an invalid on the ship. Sir Francis was taking her home in the hope that the change of climate would restore her to health. The news that she has died on the voyage will evoke the deepest sympathy of all their friends especially in Peking where they have so long resided.

Lady Aglen was the daughter of Prof. Bayley Balfour, F.R.S. She married Sir Francis Aglen in 1906 and there are three sons and two daughters of the marriage.

LOCAL ATHLETICS.

YESTERDAY'S INTERESTING DISPLAY.

SCIMITAR TUGGLE.

Devotees of physical culture and the Chinese styles of boxing and self-defence had a "field day" at the Yung Ping Theatre yesterday, the occasion being the fourth anniversary of the Chun Woo Athletic Association (Hongkong branch). An offshoot of the parent association in North China, the branch in Hongkong has become increasingly important, as many other subdivisions have sprung up since. In Canton, Peking, Kowloon, Macao, and other places to which the parent body sends instructors.

In the afternoon, the Hon. Mr. R. H. Kotewall gave away the prizes won during the past year. The evening was given over to a display which included some hair-raising items of old-style fighting. One item in which an unarmed man got the better of two adversaries armed, respectively, with a spear and what appeared to be a scimitar, was especially thrilling, the movements being too fast for the eye to follow.

A number of boxing exhibitions by ladies and children also "brought down the house."

The evening programme included selections by the brass band of the Chung Sing Benevolent Society which rendered both foreign and Chinese tunes; Cantonese, Shanghai and Northern music, solos and duets, including a song by a pupil of Mei Lan Fang, the celebrated Peking actor; phoenix, butterfly, sword and flower dances; a skit by six pierrettes on the different styles of boxing and dancing; and a "lion play."

There were over two thousand spectators.

"THE YANKEE CONSUL."

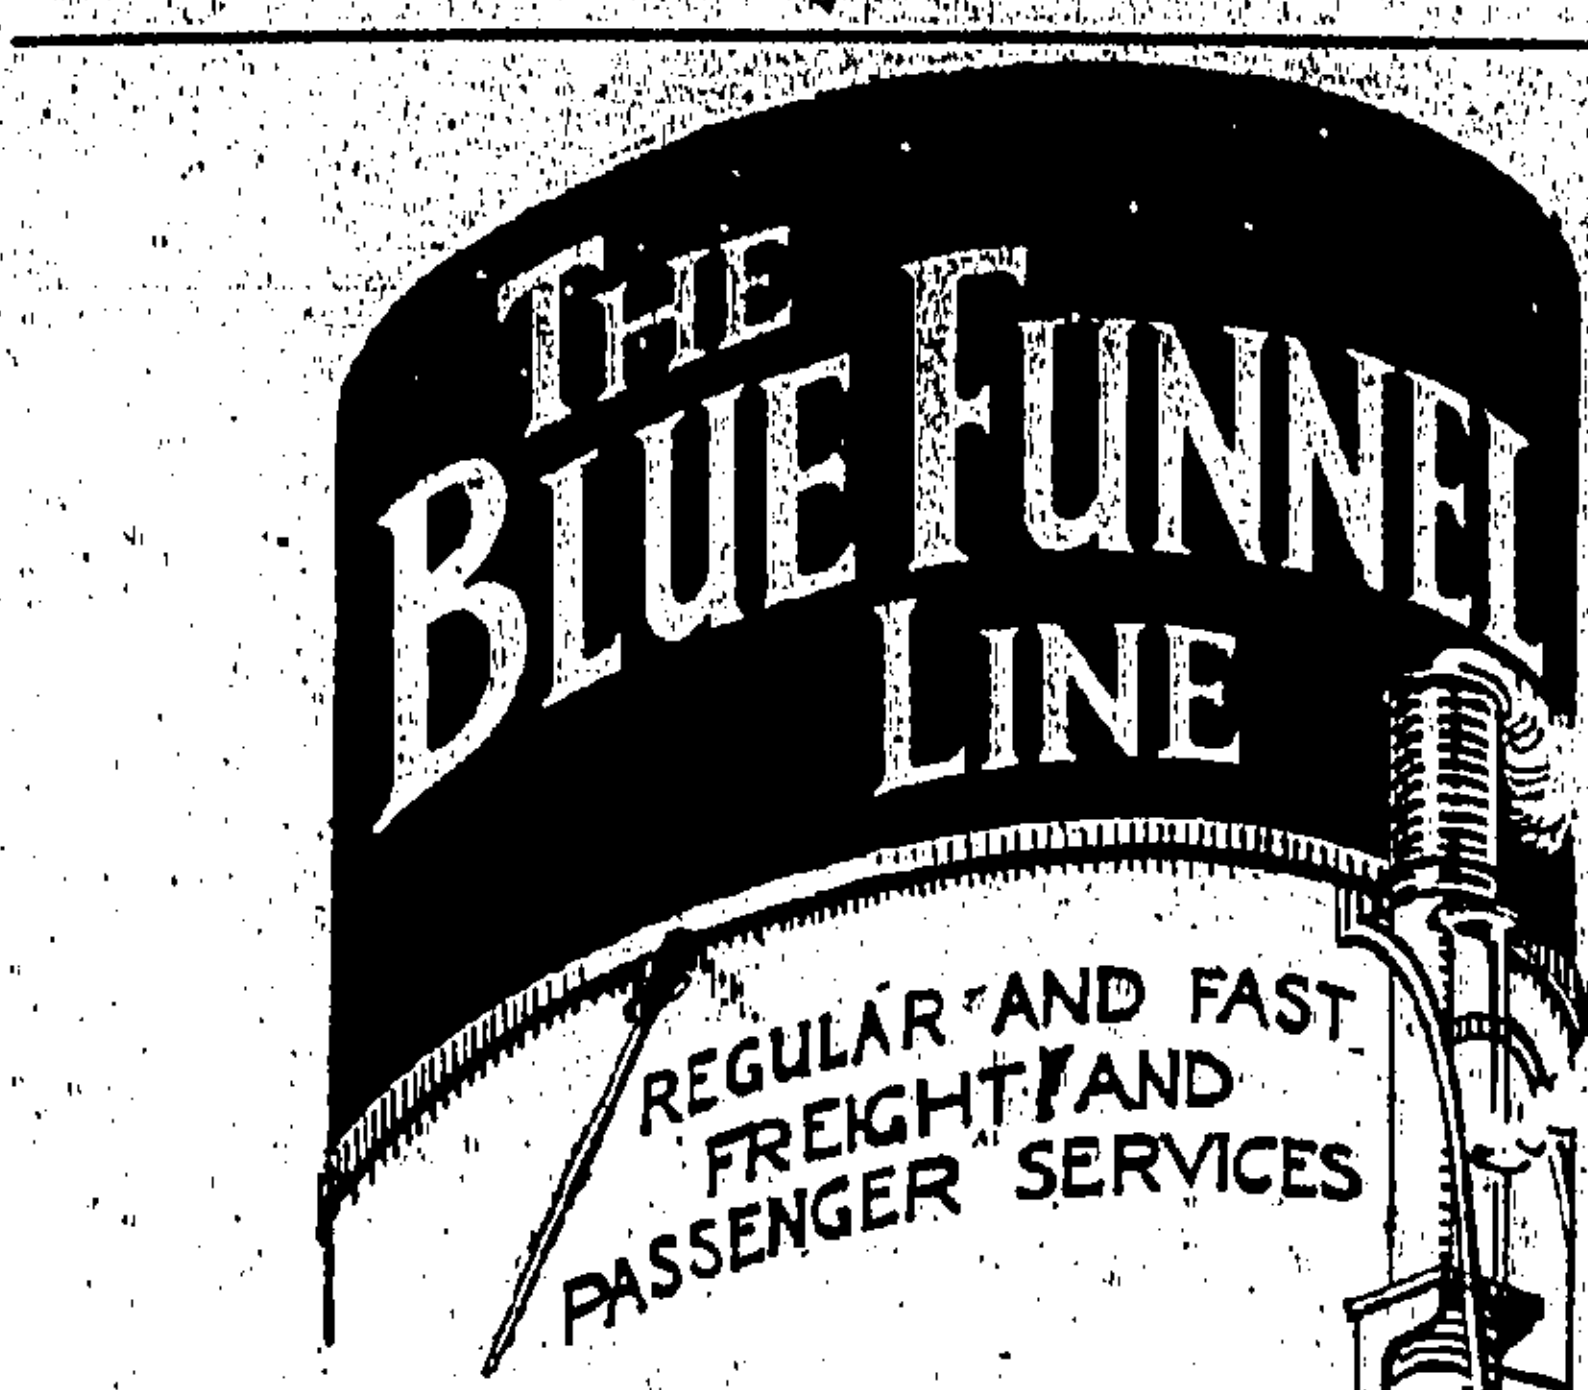

AMUSING CORONET PICTURE.

Everybody who enjoys a laugh and a thrill should see "The Yankee Consul," the feature film now showing at the Coronet Theatre. The story is vastly amusing, amounting in places to the best burlesque, and the acting is of a consistently high standard. To disclose the details of the plot here would be to anticipate those who have still to see the picture, since the unexpected plays a large part in the success of the story. However it can be mentioned, as a kind of "appetiser," that the story hinges upon a mistake whereby a young man finds himself compelled to impersonate a consul. His adventures with a beautiful damsel in distress, a chest of gold and other romantic items, his exploits in a motor car without brakes, and his final great disillusionment are all extremely diverting.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.

DUMAS "CAMILLE"

"Camille," the Nazimova production now being shown for the last time to-day at the Queen's Theatre, is the inimitable Russian star's modernized version of the famous story of Alexander Dumas, the younger.

This story, famed throughout the civilized world as a masterpiece of love and sacrifice, was the first play written by the younger Dumas and was done when he was little over twenty years of age. He is said to have written it in eight days. His father pronounced it a masterpiece but it was denied production by managers because of its unusual character.

The censors interdicted it. So in seven days the author turned it into a novel, in which form it was published, making its appearance just before the Revolution of 1848.

Four years later, on February, 2, 1852, it was put on the Vaudeville Theatre at Paris through the influence of the Duc de Morny and its unusual theme won it instant attention. By many critics it is regarded as the prototype of the modern "problem" play.

Since then it has been one of the favourites, revival after revival demonstrating the vogue it still enjoys despite its age. Its strong emotional scenes have won the historic support of many notable actresses who have listed it among their repertoire of theatrical offerings. It has enjoyed equal popularity in this country, England, France and Germany, where the theatregoers have warmly welcomed it both in adaptations and in the original French.

LISBON QUIET.

REBEL FORCES EASILY DEFEATED.

COMPELLED TO SURRENDER.

(Reuters Service.)

Lisbon, April 19. The revolutionary forces surrendered this morning. The Government forces bombarded the barracks where the rebels were holding out.

Some hundred were wounded. All is now quiet.

The Deputy Councillor, who is believed to be head of the revolutionary movement, is a prisoner in the Republican Guard Barracks, where the Cabinet is meeting.

The traffic in the city is absolutely normal and the banks are open.

EARLIER CABLES.

Paris, April 19. It is reported from Lisbon that a revolutionary movement broke out under the leadership of Major Filomeno Camara.

Supported by several hundred cavalry, artillery and infantry Camara established a directory and had several officials arrested. The President of the Republic and his ministers met at the barracks and discussed defensive measures, and shortly after loyal troops surrounded the cavalry barracks where the revolutionaries were meeting. There were disturbances in different parts of the city. Bombs were thrown and several people were killed.

The Government apparently has the situation well in hand.
